GLAVIS HOLDS HIS OWN IN PROBE

Little Progress Made in Coal Land Investigation.

QUESTION STARTS WRANGLE

Members of Committee and Lawyers Have Tilt Over Answers - Waste Time About Letters and Telegrams Already on File.

Washington, Feb. 17.-Members of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating combine. committee got to wrangling. Louis R Glavis, who was being cross-examined by J. J. Vertrees, counsel for Secreary Ballinger, had answered at considerable length a question about the man ner in which he was relieved of the coal investigation. Mr. Vertrees declared that his question had not been answered. Mr. Braindels, counsel for Glavis, insisted that it had.

"Read the question and the an swer," said Mr. Braindels to the sten ographer.

"It is unnecessary," replied Mr Root, shortly.

"I would like to have the question and answer read," reiterated Mr Braindeis, with considerable heat. "I object," replied Mr. Root. "I submit," remarked Representa tive James. "that counsel has a right to have questions and answers repeat ed, and I make a motion that they be read by the stenographer.'

"I second the motion," said Mr. Gra Chairman Nelson put the mtion and only James and Graham voted for it. Only a short time previously there had been a tilt between Mr. Graham and Mr. Vertrees, due again to a de claration by Glavis that he did not wish Mr. Vertrees to interrupt him.

Too Much Lecturing. "There is too much lecturing of the witness and too much fault finding. said Mr. Graham, coming to the rescue of Glavis.

"I am not aware of that fact," replied Chairman Nelson. "Well, I believe there is," persisted

Mr. Graham. "I am sorry to differ with you," returned the chairman.

Mr. Vertrees then announced with considerable feeling that he was entitled to an answer to his questions, and that it was unfair for Glavis "to lug in arguments to anticipate what I wish to bring out."

Senator Fletcher joined the irritable members of the committee by lecturing Mr. Vertrees for spending half an hour questioning Glavis about the dates of letters and telegrams which were already in the record.

Glavis Displays Cleverness.

Glavis once more displayed his cleverness as a witness when Mr. Vertrees quick enough, for the shaft of the endeavored to show that the witness; sleigh shot through her high coiffure was dilatory in resuming his investi- and dragged her a hundred yards behe had been ordered to suspend it the shock, a few scratches and much because the department appropriation soiled clothing the young woman eswas running low. Mr. Vertrees spent; caped injury. nearly half an hour on this point and quoted a letter from Commissioner Dennett, written on May 28, 1908, informing Glavis that a new appropriation was available and instructing him to "push the work." Mr. Vertrees insisted that this was virtually a blanket order and embraced the Alaska coal cases, but finally Glavis called at tention to a letter written by H. H Schwartz to Commissioner Dennett on Sept. 23 of the same year, expressing his belief that the Cunningham claims were fraudulent and asking that Glavis be allowed to resume his investigation of them. When adjournment was taken until Friday, Glavis was being questioned about the change in the rules of the department relating to coal land cases. He declared that standing alone the changes made would not appear significant or wrong, but viewed in connection with the manner in which the general land office handled the coal land cases during a long period the changes were particularly significant. He declined to state, however, that the changes involved wrongdoing on the part of any one in the land

PRUBING MEAT PRICES

Federal Grand Jury Seeks to Learn How Daily Rate Is Named.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The federal grand jury, which is investigating the beef trust, has reached the point in its investigations where it has decided to ascertain, if possible, the method by which the price of meat is fixed daily.

The grand jury also is going to endeavor to find out what sort of agreement, if any, is maintained between the members of the trust and the socalled "independent" firms that do the same market.

How the daily market for beef and centers, such as the Chicago stock yards, is a matter that the government has not made clear to the grand jury Along this line is naturally included an investigation of the so-called "independent" concerns that trade at the same centers as the members of the

20 Years With Heart Trouble

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has cured me of heart disease of over 20 years' standing. I was so bad that I could not do my work, and could scarcely draw a full breath without fainting or smothering. The doctor told me he could do no more for me; then I commenced taking the Heart Remedy. I shall never forget that night. I slept better than I had before in months. I kept right on getting better, until I was perfectly well."

MRS. LAURA RUSSELL,

Logan, Iowa. When the heart action is weak, it fails to pump the blood through the lungs with sufficient rapidity. Then the lungs do not absorb the proper amount of oxygen, although they may be taking in a normal amount of air. The result is shortness of breath, smothering spells, difficult breathing, oppressed feeling in chest. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and in this way increases the circulation.

Senator Conger Declares Jean L. Bur. nett Received One of the Boodle Envelopes to Kill Bridge Legislation.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 17. - Senator Benn Conger testified to the name of a second assemblyman to whom one of three boodle envelopes distributed by Deacon Moe was given. It was that of the late Jean L. Burnett, who entered the assembly from the Ontario district in 1899 and served successively until he died during the session of February, 1907. Mr. Burnett had become one of the most influential members of the house, presided over by the late Speaker S. Fred Nixon, and was chairman of the assembly cities' committee when he died. At the time of the bribery Mr. Burnett was chairman of the assembly general laws committee. Whether Mr. Burnett got any of this money for himself or whether he acted as a sort of a wardman, has not yet been developed.

In discussing the history of the bridge legislation of 1901 Senator Conger brought in the names of for mer Assemblyman Louis Bedell, of Orange county, who was a member of the assembly committee on rules at that time, and the names of several members of the internal affairs committee, but there was no suggestion of the use of money by Senator Conger in this connection must answer the question." The witness: "The name was Jean Burnett. Q "Well after that talk with him the bills were amended, were they not?" A "Yes, sir." Q "Now were you approached, Mr nett, upon the subject of the amend ment of these bills, prior to their amendment?" A. "Yes, sir."

Q. "By whom?" A. "Louis Bedell." Q. "He was a member of the house at that time-" A "Yes, sir."

Act on Measures.

GRAFT TALKS LEADERS

> If These Do Not Have the Desired Effect He May Send Special Message Fixing Responsibility For the

Washington, Feb. 17. - President Taft is becoming impatient at the failure of congress to act upon the important measures he has specially urged upon its attention, and he is taking steps to let the fact be known.

He was called upon at the White House, presumably at his own request, by several legislators in charge of the various measures and the nenessity for prompt action, at least on some of the minor matters of legislation. was strongly urged by him.

The White House conferences are regarded as especially important as they emphasize the fact that the pres ident intends to put the screws down hard upon those who are antagonistic to his declared policies and force through the legislation to which he stands committeed

Among his callers was Senator Bev eridge, chairman of the committee on territories who is looking after the Alaskan territorial bill; Sepator Carter, who is fathering the postal sav ings bank bill; Senator Borah, who has actively opposed some of the fea tures of the latter measure, and Representative Hayes, ranked as an in surgent whose aid might be helpful in securing united action by the Republican majority in the house upon the Republican platform.

It is believed the president desires that such measures as the Arizons of the assembly internal affairs com- and New Mexico statehood bill, the mittee on the Malby-Stevens bill aim- Alaskan territorial bill, and others of comparatively minor importance be gotten to the point where the bills had acted on at once in order to clear the been amended so as to provide they, way for some of the large subjects, at should not apply to the construction least those likely to give rise to pro-

president will continues his personal interviews with the various leaders in the senate and house, and if this course does not avail to promote speedy action in congress on the measures referred to it is entirely possible that he may feel called upon to asking the witness if he could re send a special message to congress placing the responsibility where it belongs

The apparent indifference to the Taft legislative program is pretty well illustrated by the difficulty that the senate committee on terirtories has been having to get action on the bill reorganizing the government of Alas ka. The committee has met several times without being able to scare up a quorum. One Republican senator commented upon the situation in this

"In the twelve years that I have been in the senate I have never before seen conditions such that I could not ay in a general way what was going to be done-such conditions of min gled indifference and hostility.

The ambitious program which Presi dent Taft presented to congress con sisted of the statehood bill, the Alaska bill, the anti-injunction bill, the postal savings bank bill, additional amendments to the railroad rate law and the federal incorporation act.

The president has indicated that he will not insist upon the passage of the federal incorporation act. He has come to the conclusion, it is said that before this bill can be passed he and the party must conduct a campaign of education in regard to it.

Senate May Defeat Postal Bank Bill. Washington, Feb. 17.-Unless Senator Root can be induced to withdraw or materially modify his amendment to the postal savings bank bill, requiring investment of postal deposits in United States bonds, that measure will probably be defeated in the senatc. Friends of the bill admit this is the situation.

To Take Up Conservative Bills. Washington, Feb. 17 .- All administration bills for the conservation of notural resources will be considered by a sub-committee of the senate committee on public lands, composed of Senators Smoot, chairman; Clark, Wyoming; Dixon Chamberlain and Hughes Hearings will be given.
